Nervous Prostration

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, and unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I find my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless today had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HENSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinross, S. C.

The first official census bulletin has been issued, and it shows Duluth to have 53,396 inhabitants, which is a gain of 38 per cent in five years.

The opening of the government dam at Leech Lake is expected to raise the Mississippi at Brainerd two feet. The gates will be kept open until Oct. 1st.

It is stated that the St. Paul and Detroit base ball teams are contemplating a trip over the Northern Pacific, and will stop in such towns as arrange for their reception.

TAYLOR, the defaulting South Dakota treasurer, plead guilty to the embezzlement of $367,023.32. It was a pretty fair sized steal, and he was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

A cold storage dealer of Kewanee, Ill., was found to have 35,860 birds, including ducks, quail and partridges, in his possession contrary to the game law, and by a recent decision of the court was fined $23.50.

The Cass County Pioneer has passed into the hands of Wm. Pennar, who announces that the politics will not be republican, democratic, populist nor prohibition, but that the paper will put on a "true blue Cass county political coat."

In the eastern markets prime timothy hay is quoted as follows: Boston $19; New York $21; Jersey City $22; Providence $20; Chicago $15. The hay crop in the west is generally good, while in Canada and the east it will not average half a crop.

It is authoritatively stated that out of 140,980 immigrants who landed on our shores during the past nine months, 19,602 could neither read or write. It is this class of people who make trouble in America and they should not be allowed the right of suffrage.

It is now hinted that the Republican newspapers of the sixth district that oppose the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 are the subservient tools of the gold conspirators. Well, one thing is sure, the republican newspapers of the district are not political jumping jacks.—Transcript.

The people of West Superior are aroused over the attempt of the city council to pass the "curfew" ordinance. They think that the passage of such a law would be an encroachment upon personal liberty. The ordinance has been passed successfully in every Minnesota city that has adopted it, but maybe our Wisconsin friends don't mind it.

From Our Exchanges.

The earnings of the state grain inspection department for July amounted to $9,710.86.

The school board of Marshall expended more money for a high school library last year than any other school in the state, $522.

The Mississippi river has been getting low of late, and to help it out the government dams at Leech Lake, Winnebagoish and Pokegama have been opened and the others will add their quota as the water from those above reaches them.

A Crow Wing County Exhibit.

On Saturday afternoon of last week a meeting was held at the court house of the object of which was to secure cooperation in giving an exhibit of Crow Wing county products at the state fair Sept. 9 to 14. J. A. Wilson was chairman of the meeting, and W. H. Everest secretary, and after the benefits to be derived from such an exhibit had been fully explained, a motion was made and carried to appoint a committee of three from each voting precinct in the county to collect and deliver to the executive committee at Brainerd such exhibits as their territory produces, and the following were named:

First ward—John Bubar, P. M. Lagerquist and Mrs. J. S. Gardner.

Second ward—Sam. H. Parker, M. K. Swartz and Mrs. Milton McFadden.

Third ward—Mrs. Geo. Forsyth, James Cullen and Wm. Williamson.

Fourth ward—John Lawson, Mike Peterson and T. W. Crawford.

Fifth ward—Mrs. H. Theviot, R. H. Paine and Adam Brown.

It is understood that any member of the precinct committees who cannot attend may appoint proxies from the same locality to act for them.

Prof. Potatoes Are Scarce.

Why Luggner, the big man of the State University, gives the following reasons why potato bugs are scarce this season: "A knowledge of the life history of the potato beetle will explain the reason why these insects are so uncommon this year. The drought of last year destroyed the foliage of the potato when the last generation was still very young, and most of the larva not finding food had to starve. Still quite a number managed to reach full size and attempted to enter the ground for hibernation. The ground being exceedingly dry made it difficult for soft bodied insects to penetrate any depth, and this hardness and great heat combined to kill vast numbers of full grown larva. Still a few succeeded to form their cells in the ground and hibernated successfully. The very warm spell in the spring coaxed them out of their winter quarters earlier than usual and the succeeding freeze killed most of the potato bugs which so far escaped destruction."

The following is a list of the games arranged for until Sept. 1st: Morris, 16, 17 and 18. Willmar 19. Redwood Falls 20 and 21. St. Peter 23, 24 and 25. Le Sueur 26 and 27. Chaska 28 and 29. Mankato 30, 31 and Sept. 1.

Some Census Returns.

A telegram from St. Paul states that unofficial figures, but undoubtedly correct, have been obtained from the work of the census enumerators. These show a gain of two thousand in population for St. Cloud, over 1890.

Little Falls has almost doubled its population, and now has 4,477. The following is the population of some other cities: Rochester, 6,429; Crookston, and adjoining township, 4,478; Red Wing, 7,247; St. Peter, 4,241; Northfield, 3,456; Elk River, 2,377; Detroit, 1,801; Luverne, 2,325; Tremont, 2,004; Cannon Falls, 2,189; Kenyon, 2,054; Ramsey county, outside of St. Paul, 7,245, a gain of 606.</

The Pueblo Indians are a most race. They have resisted all attempts of traders to introduce whisky and playing cards in their midst.

Pots of earthenware were made by almost every nation long before the dawn of history. They were probably the first cooking utensils employed by savage people.

In 1890 the horses of the United States were valued at $575,000,000. In 1895, though the number had decreased only $576,730,580.

Within five years 650,000,000 young cod have been hatched and turned out in Britany Bay, Newfoundland. As a consequence the fish is now swarming with cod.

The debt of Egypt has been increased $4,000,000 since the British occupation, although the rate of interest has been cut in half. The share of debt of every man, woman and child is $72.70.

The new telegraph, recently completed for Portland Heights, Ore., will make a flash that at 100 miles will appear like a great blazing star. With a three-inch glass it may be seen 750 miles.

The first battle was undoubtedly the stump of a tree. The Egyptians as early as 2000 B. C. used tables with one to three legs. Tables with rollers or castors on the legs were known in the ninth century.

There are between 600 and 1,000 dead mites scattered through the city of Chicago, and they are all industrious and fairly prosperous, earning their living honestly and uncomplainingly.

The Egyptian monuments of 2200 B. C. represent pictures of pots with handles and legs, evidently designed to be played over a fire. Iron pots have been found in great numbers at both Herculaneum and Pompeii.

The Roman pitchers were really cases. Two-handled pitchers, for water, were in use among the Saxons, Germans and French in the sixth century. The Amphorae of the Romans bore a distinct resemblance to our pitchers.

In the eighth century the Frankish ladies always walked with a staff about five feet long. It was supposed to add uprightness to the figure, and in the head of the staff was carried a powerful charm against the devil.

Mr. Wiesbaden of Eugene, Ore., found a half-dozen Japanese pheasants' eggs near town, brought them home, placed them under a hen, and every one of them was hatched out. He has now some beautiful half-grown tame pheasants.

The explanation of the Bannock near is very simple. The sheriff and his posse shot fifteen unarmed Indians whom they had arrested for hunting out of season and when they were talking to jail. They then appealed to the national government to protect them from the expected vengeance of other members of the tribe.

Boston is justly proud of its new public library and is finding ways to enlarge its usefulness. The trustees have decided to establish three delivery stations in different parts of the city, where people can order books in the morning and receive them in the afternoon. The Yankee idea of keeping a good book in motion is commendable.

The withdrawal of the Vigilant from further races with the Defender will not affect public confidence in the latter boat. Her victories over the cup defender of 1893 have been so regular and decisive that there remains not the slightest doubt that she should still defeat the Valkyrie III. The Jubilee, the built keel experiment, as predicted, showed her to be distinctly inferior to the Defender and Vigilant.

In China it is Mongolian against Canadian at Ku Cheng; in America it is Caucasian against African at Spring Valley, and against Mongolian everywhere. Human nature seems about the same whether it is classed as lean-flesh or Christian. After all, the classification is generally complimentary to the classifiers.

Sir Dyce Duckworth addressed a meeting of clergy in England the other day, on clerical breakdown. He spoke first on clerical sore throat, and then of the line of breakdown, all too common among the clergy—that of the digestive system. Sir Dyce Duckworth advised relaxation in cricket, golf or cycling, recommended a little wine, and deprecated excessive tobacco-smoking.

The new battle ships, Maine and Texas, are to be placed in commission in a few days. They will carry twelve ten and six-inch guns and powerful secondary batteries. Within a year three battle ships, the Massachusetts, Indiana and Oregon, will be ready with an armament embracing thirteen-inch guns. The United States navy is already good shape for business, which is the best way to ensure amicable relations with all mankind.

It is claimed that E. E. Kessler of Richmond, Ind., was the youngest private soldier in the war. He was born June 10, 1849, and enlisted in Company B, Sixty-eighth Ohio Veteran Volunteer Infantry, at Napoleon, Ohio, in September, 1861, at the age of thirteen years. In June, '95, at the age of sixteen years, he was mustered out, having served for three years and nine months as a private soldier.

In modern battle ships France and Russia combined are slightly ahead of England, in the proportion of 27 to 23, and the gap will be widened when the ships of the first class, now under contract, are finished. These figures explain the interest taken by the British in the Italian navy, which contains a goodly number of powerful battle ships. The Salisbury administration will spend a great deal of money on the navy and keep close watch of the French and Russian fleets.

BRainerd, MINN. SOTA.

The Pueblo Indians are a moral race. They have resisted all attempts of traders to introduce whisky and playing cards in their midst.

Pots of earthenware were made by almost every nation long before the dawn of history. They were probably the first cooking utensils employed by savage people.

In 1880 the horses of the United States were valued at $975,000,000. In 1885, though the number had decreased over one million, the value was only $576,730,580.

Within five years 650,000,000 young cod have been hatched and turned loose in Trinity Bay, Newfoundland. As a consequence the bay is now swarming with cod.

The debt of Egypt has been increased $1,000,000 since the British occupation, although the rate of interest has been cut in half. The share of debt of every man, woman and child is $72.70.

The new heliograph, recently completed for Portland Heights, Ore., will make a flash that at 100 miles will appear like a great blazing star, and a three-inch glass it may be seen 700 miles.

The first table was undoubtedly the stump of a tree. The Egyptians as early as 2000 B. C. used tables with one to three legs. Tables with rollers or castors on the legs were known in the ninth century.

There are between 600 and 1,000 deaf mutes scattered through the city of Chicago, and they are all industrious and fairly prosperous, earning their living honestly and uncomplainingly.

The Egyptian monuments of 2200 B. C. represent pictures of pots with handles and legs, evidently designed to be placed over a fire. Iron pots are found in great numbers at both Hieracopolis and Pompeii.

The Roman pitchers were really cases. Two-handled pitchers, for water, were in use among the Saxons, Germans and French in the sixth century. The Amphorae of the Romans have a distinct resemblance to our tin cans.

In the eighth century the Frankish ladies always walked with a staff about five feet long. It was supposed to add uprightness to the figure, and in the head of the staff was carried a powerful charm against the devil.

Mr. Wiedman of Eugene, Ore., found a half-dozen Japanese pheasants' eggs near town, brought them home, placed them under a hen, and every one of them was hatched out. He has now some beautiful half-grown tame pheasants.

The explanation of the Bamook nears is very simple. The sheriff and his posse shot fifteen unarmed Indians whom they had arrested for hunting out of season and whom they were taking to jail. They then appeared to the national government to protect them from the expected vengeance of other members of the tribe.

Boston is justifiably proud of its new public library and its finding ways to enlarge its usefulness. The trustees have decided to establish three delivery stations in different parts of the city, where people can order books in the morning and receive them in the afternoon. The Yankee idea of keeping a good book in motion is commendable.

The withdrawal of the Vigilant from further races with the Defender will not affect public confidence in the latter boat. Her victories over the cup defender of 1893 have been so regular and decisive that there remains not the slightest doubt that she will meet the Valkyrie III. The Defender, with her best equipment, as predicted, showed her to be distinctly inferior to the Defender and Vigilant.

In China it is Mongolian against Caucasian at Ku Cheng; in America it is Caucasian against African at Spring Valley, and against Mongolian everywhere. Human nature seems about the same whether it is classed as Caucasian or Christian. After all, the classification is generally complimentary to the classifiers.

Mr. Dyce Duckworth addressed a meeting of clergy in England the other day, on clerical breakdown. He spoke first on clerical stress and strain, and then of the line of breakdown, all too common among the clergy—that of the digestive system. He was advised to eat less crickets, golf or cycling, recommended a little wine, and deprecated excessive tobacco-smoking.

The new battle ships, Maine and Texas, are to be placed in commission in a few days. They will carry twelve, ten and six-inch guns and powerful secondary batteries. Within a year three battle ships, the Massachusetts, Indiana and Oregon, will be ready with an armament embracing thirteen-inch guns. The United States navy is already in good shape for business, which is the best way to insure amicable relations with all unkind.

It is claimed that E. E. Kessler of Richmond, Ind., was the youngest private soldier in the war. He was born June 10, 1849, and enlisted in Company B, Sixty-eighth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, at Napoleon, Ohio, in September, 1861, at the age of less than thirteen years. In June, '65, at the age of sixteen years, he was mustered out, having served for three years and nine months as a private soldier.

In modern battle ships France and Russia combined are slightly ahead of England, in the proportion of 27 to 23, and the gap will be widened when the ships of the first class, now under construction, are finished. These figures explain the interest taken by the British in the Italian navy, which contains a goodly number of powerful battle ships. The British navy administration will spend a great deal of money on the navy and keep close watch of the French and Russian fleets.

FRITZ IN A MADHOUSE.
To Be Played by Mr. J. K. Emmet, at the Sleeper Opera House Next Monday Evening.
The name of J. K. Emmet is a safe one to conjure with in the estimation of American theatre goers. It is associated only with the most agreeable things in the mimic art. His name has become synonymous with "Fritz" one of the most famous and delightful characters in this history of the drama of this country. All people know him, whether young or old, rich or poor. They have been made happier by his fun and humor, more sympathetic through his struggles and touching sorrows. "Fritz" has become as much of a household word as the most famous poem in our literature. As we enjoy reading such poetic treasures again and again, always finding some new pleasure, so we enjoy seeing "Fritz" again and again, discovering always some new and delightful characteristic. When such agreeable associations connected with him, it is not at all surprising that the talented young actor mentioned, should receive such cordial welcome everywhere. This season he comes to us in a new garb, more substantial and pleasing than before, if that is possible. In his production of "Fritz in a Madhouse" he has a worthy opportunity to display his ripe talents as an actor. The play has had a run of three months at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, New York and contains some uproarious situations and some pathetic incident. The child interest which always characterizes the "Fritz" plays, is especially strong in this one. Since he first entered upon his theatrical career, Mr. Emmet has always distinguished himself by his selection of an excellent company of actors to support him. This year the company is better than before. It includes among others: Misses Emily Lytton, Laura S. Howe, Kate Eckert, Kitty Francis, Messrs. L. P. Hicks, Willard Newell, Gilbert Bratwatt, Chas. Stewart, Geo. Hernandez, Chas. A. Prince and Little Baby Spencer Sinitot. Secure your seats now.

The old favorites are always sure of a hearty welcome, and we know no actor who occupies a warmer place in the affections and esteem of our theatergoers than Mr. J. K. Emmet, the "Fritz" of pleasant memories. He will present the lovable German hero in his new play called "Fritz in a Mad House." Mr. Emmet will be supported by an excellent company of well known and popular players. The play will be produced on a scale of general excellence. The cast includes Misses Emily Lytton, Laura S. Howe, Kate Eckert, Kitty Francis, Messrs. L. P. Hicks, Willard Newell, Gilbert Braitwaite, Charles Stewart, Geo. Hernandez, Chas. A. Prince, and Little Baby Spencer Simot.
W. S. McClenahan, of McClenahan & Mantor, a legal firm of Brainerd, is in the city today taking the deposition of Dr. Millsap in regard to the injuries of Michael Jones. Jones was a passenger on the Brainerd & Northern R. R. on Jan. 28, 1895. The train remained stationary several hours. At 4 a. m. a train was seen coming on the same track, and Jones, in trying to get off, was knocked into the roadway by the concussion ensuing from striking of his train by the other. The other was loaded with logs, and pushed the passenger ahead, some of the logs falling on Jones. He claims injuries to hips and nervous system, and wants $5,000 from the railroad company. Lindbergh, Blanchard & Lindbergh are his attorneys. McClenahan & Mantor represent the defendant.—Little Falls Transcript.

The admission is free, with a charge of 5 cents for seats.

Sixty-one young people of the Sunday school classes of the Catholic church received communion on Sunday morning last for the first time. The church was appropriately decorated and the attendance more than taxed the seating capacity of the large church. Rev. Father Lynch preached a very interesting sermon and the music was exceptionally fine.

John N. Sharp and Ed. Powers were caught in the police net yesterday. The two young men had been employed by Koop Bros. in the hay field, and when they quit work on Thursday they stopped into Mrs. Mary Schwindemann's and helped themselves to a Winchester rifle and belt. They pleaded guilty to the charge of petit larceny this morning and were given a jail sentence of 60 days in default of $45 with which to pay their fine.

Fritz in a Madhouse.
To Be Played by Mr. J. K. Emmet, at the Sleeper Opera House Next Monday Evening.
The name of J. K. Emmet is a safe one to conjure with in the estimation of American theatre goers. It is associated only with the most agreeable things in the mimic art. His name has become synonymous with "Fritz" one of the most famous and delightful characters in the history of the drama of this country. All people know him, whether young or old, rich or poor. They have been made happier by his fun and humor, more sympathetic through his struggles and touching sorrows. "Fritz" has become as much of a household word as the most famous poem in our literature. As we enjoy reading such poetic treasures again and again, so we find seeing "Fritz" again and again, discovering always some new and delightful characteristic. When such agreeable associations connected with him, it is not at all surprising that the talented young actor mentioned, should receive such cordial welcome everywhere. This season he comes to us in a new garb, more substantial and pleasing than before, if that is possible. In his production of "Fritz in a Madhouse" he has a worthy opportunity to display his ripe talents as an actor. The play has had a run of three months at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, New York and contains some uproarious situations and some pathetic incidents. The child interest which always characterizes the "Fritz" plays, is especially strong in this one. Since he first entered upon his theatrical career, Mr. Emmet has always distinguished himself by his selection of an excellent company of actors to support him. This year the company is better than before. It includes among others: Misses Emily Lytton, Laura S. Howe, Kate Eckert, Kitty Francis, Messrs. L. P. Hicks, Willard Newell, Gilbert Braitwaite, Chas. Stewart, Geo. Hernandez, Chas. A. Prince and Little Baby Spencer Simot. Secure your seats now.

Garrison News Notes.
The binders are being brought out of their winter quarters and the farmers are jubilant over their fine crop of small grain.
J. F. Dykeman, chairman of the town supervisors, has posted up fire notices, the board having divided the town into three fire districts. The right men have been appointed for fire wardens and they will see that law-breakers are punished.
W. A. Warren, our fruit man, has taken a number of orders for fruits. Considering the late frosts in the spring the fruit crop in this section will be quite abundant.
Many of our young men have gone to Dakota to remain during harvest.
Mrs. J. F. Dykeman is visiting friends in Brainerd this week.
The supervisors met on Tuesday to view the road work done for the town by Fred Truxler and J. M. Coffield. Considerable work has been done on the roads but there is much yet not completed.
